

FlushSASH

Have you ever wished you could combine the look of traditional timber windows and doors with the durability and security of a modern PVCu product?

We'll wish no longer – with FlushSASH from PlatinumNRG you can.

Innovation & Tradition

from Platinum
NRG

The FlushSASH range from PlatinumNRG is the very latest innovation in fenestration. For years the window industry has replaced traditional timber products in properties with PVCu designs, where the chamfered or sculptured opening sashes protrude over the frame.

The new range of FlushSASH windows and doors brings back the traditional timber appearance with the sashes fitting flush into the frame. They are manufactured from 70mm PVCu profiles and bring all the benefits of low maintenance, security, comfort, weather resistance and recyclability.

From a style perspective a wide range of timber grained effect foil finishes are available, allowing matching or contrasting colours to be specified on the frames and sashes. Create the perfect match for traditional regional fenestration colour variants or a completely personalised design for your property. Mechanical joints on transoms and mullions are a standard feature, to replicate traditional mortise and tenon timber joints. To complete the authentic period look, monkey tail window handles and faux window stays are available as an option.

Our unique flush doors feature slender opening leaves hung on butt hinges and when specified with a sidelite there is a uniform glass sightline, which faithfully replicates original timber detailing.

These traditional style products are crafted using environmentally friendly, lead free PVCu profiles and can be specified with energy efficient, double or triple glazed sealed units for optimum energy performance. Our flush windows have achieved an A +5 energy rating and our flush doors can perform to a U Value of 1.4 W/m².K

Our FlushSASH range is the perfect choice for homeowners who have been waiting for an affordable, authentic replacement for their existing, tired, timber windows and doors. For those looking to put traditional style back into their period property whilst enhancing the value of the home. Or for people considering a new conservatory or orangery with all the period looks of timber yet all the benefits of modern materials. For innovation and tradition, it's the product of choice.
